

Higher Modern Studies (Course Code: C849 76)

SCQF Level 6 (24 Credit Points)

Why study Modern Studies?

Learning Modern Studies gives you a greater understanding of the contemporary world and your place in it.

You will learn contemporary political and social issues in local, Scottish, United Kingdom and international contexts, and, in these contexts, develop an awareness of the social and political issues you will meet in your life. You will also develop investigating, evaluating and analysing skills in order to understand and explain political, social and international issues.

The skills you learn in Modern Studies are valuable in many career areas, including public administration, business management, law, teaching and journalism.

What will I study?

Democracy in the United Kingdom

You will:

- study aspects of the democratic political system in the UK including the place of Scotland within this system.

Social Issues in the United Kingdom – Social inequality

You will:

- focus on the impact of social inequality on any relevant group

International Issues – World Powers

You will:

- focus on political and socio-economic issues, studying a major world power from any members of the G20 group of countries, including the EU but excluding the UK

How will I be assessed?

The course assessment has three components totalling 110 marks:

- Component 1: question paper 1 – worth 52 marks (consisting of 3 sections, two worth 20 marks and one worth 12 marks)
- Component 2: question paper 2 – worth 28 marks
- Component 3: assignment – worth 30 marks.

For the assignment component (which has 2 stages, research and production of evidence), you will choose a topic which allows you to analyse a contemporary issue. You will organise your findings to address this issue and produce evidence to support your findings.

Both question papers are set and externally marked by the Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA).

The grade awarded is based on the total marks achieved across course assessment.

The course assessment is graded A-D.
